EDITOR'S NOTE

In publishing this Directory, the Kentucky Commission on the Deaf and Hard of Hearing makes no judgement or representation as to the qualifications, competence or skills of any person listed herein. The selection, acceptability, and rate of compensation is left, in all cases, up to the user.

Further, KCDHH shall not be responsible for the acts or omissions of any person listed. While KCDHH has made every effort to publish correct and current information, the possibility of change in interpreter address, phone numbers, and certification does exist.

FEDERAL AND STATE LAWS REGARDING INTERPRETERS

The following are synopses of the cited laws. For the entire law, contact the Kentucky Commission on the Deaf and Hard of Hearing at the address below.

Federal Laws

The Americans with Disabilities Act, (also known as ADA and Public Law 101-336), prohibits discrimination against people with disabilities. This includes employment, transportation, public accommodation, communications, and activities of state and local government.

Public Law 101-336 - 28 C.F.R. 36.301 (c) - Definition of a "qualified interpreter". Qualified interpreter means an interpreter "who is able to interpret effectively, accurately, and impartially both receptively and expressively, using any necessary specialized vocabulary."

Public Law 101-336, Title III - Extra charges may not be imposed on individuals with disabilities to cover the costs of measures necessary to ensure nondiscriminatory treatment, such as removing barriers or providing qualified interpreters.

Public Law 101-336, 28 C.F.R. 36.104 - Using family members as interpreters. "In certain circumstances, notwithstanding that the family member or friend is able to interpret or is a certified interpreter, the family or friend may not be qualified to render the necessary interpretation because of factors such as emotional or personal involvement or considerations of confidentiality that may adversely affect the ability to interpret effectively, accurately and impartially."

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, also known as Public Law 93-112, prohibits discrimination against people with disabilities in all programs and activities of the federal government, including employment, services, and education.

State Laws

KRS 30A.400 (2) - Any statement made by a person entitled to the services of an interpreter to a law enforcement officer may be used as evidence against that person only if the statement was made, offered, or elicited in the presence of a qualified interpreter. This shall in no way deny a person the right to make a voluntary confession.

KRS 30A.410 - A person is entitled to a qualified interpreter when he/she because of deafness or hard of hearing is involved in any court matter, criminal or civil. The deaf person makes the decision when an interpreter is needed. He/she makes the determination regarding the effectiveness/appropriateness of the interpreter. He/she has the right to request another interpreter for reasonable cause.

KRS 30A.430. Interpreter not to be examined as witness - Every person who acts as an interpreter in circumstances involving the arrest, police custody or other stage in a criminal, civil, or other matter of a person coming under KRS 30A.410 shall not be examined as a witness regarding conversations between that person and his attorney, when the conversations would otherwise be subject to the attorney-client privilege, without the consent of that person. Interpreters shall not be required to testify regarding any other privileged communications without the consent of the person for whom they are interpreting.

KRS 344.500. Provision of Interpreters - A qualified interpreter shall be appointed in any proceeding before a board, commission, agency or licensing authority of the state or any of its political subdivisions, when the principal party in interest or a witness is deaf, hard of hearing, or speech impaired.

How Do I Communicate With a Person Who is Deaf?

There are approximately 371,000 Kentuckians who are deaf or hard of hearing according to a 1988 study conducted by the University of Louisville Urban Studies Center for the Kentucky Department of Vocational Rehabilitation.

The National Information Center on Deafness at Gallaudet University estimates that 8.8% of the general population have some type of hearing problem. Those most likely to use sign language are estimated to be .19% of the general population.

The most convenient, reliable, and accurate means of exchanging information with most persons who are deaf is to use a qualified interpreter (see definition of qualified interpreter on page 1). Communicating with a deaf or hard of hearing person does not have to be awkward or intimidating.

When a person makes you aware of his/her hearing loss, simply write a brief note asking for his/her preferred mode of communication. A telecommunications device for the deaf (TTY) may be used to type the message by telephone. You may also verbally ask the question when using the telephone relay service. To access the Kentucky Telephone Relay Service, just call 1-800-648-6057 by voice. A trained operator will call the deaf or hard of hearing person on another line using a TTY and read his/her response to you.

All persons who are deaf or hard of hearing do not communicate in the same manner. Communication depends on several factors: age at which hearing loss began; type of hearing loss; speechreading skill; speech ability; personality; family environment; educational background; and personal preference. Some use American Sign Language (ASL). Some use other forms of sign language, and some use speechreading.

The key is to find out which combination of communication techniques works best with each deaf or hard of hearing person. Successful communication in the deaf or hard of hearing person's preferred mode of communication is the goal.

(reprinted with modifications and permission from Louisiana Commission for the Deaf's Directory of Certified Interpreters, January 1, 1995-December 31, 1995 - A Resource Handbook on Interpreting and the Texas Commission for the Deaf's Interpreter Certification and Principles of Ethical Behavior)

Definitions

American Sign Language (ASL) - a language whose medium is visual rather than aural. Like any other language, ASL has its own vocabulary, idioms, grammar, and syntax - different from English. The elements of this language (the individual signs) consist of the handshape, position, movement, and orientation of the hands to the body and each other. ASL also uses space, direction and speed of movements, and facial expression to help convey meaning.

Oral - a mode of communication utilizing speech, speechreading and residual hearing as a primary means of communication and using situational and culturally appropriate gestures, without the use of sign language.

Pidgin Sign English (PSE) - When the vocabulary of ASL and fingerspelled words are presented in English word order, a "pidgin" results. Pidgin Sign English is neither strictly English nor ASL, but combines elements of both.

Preferred Mode of Communication - the method of communication that the deaf or hard of hearing individual is most expressive and comfortable in using. This may be American Sign Language, a manual form of English, writing, speaking, or any other mode of communication.

Deaf Interpreter - a deaf or hard of hearing individual, who is able to assist in providing an accurate interpretation between standard sign language and variants of sign language (including home signs) by acting as an intermediary between a deaf or hard of hearing person and a qualified interpreter/transliterator.

Certified Interpreter/Transliterator - a sign language, oral, or cued speech interpreter/transliterator who was awarded certification by demonstrating an advanced level of expressive and receptive skills. Certified interpreters/transliterators have a thorough knowledge of at least one of the codes of ethics on interpreting and have been awarded certification by the Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf (RID), National Association of the Deaf (NAD), or the Training, Evaluation and Certification Unit (¹cued speech) and has maintained that certification in good standing. (see pp. 9 - 11)

State Screened Interpreter - an individual who was awarded state screening by demonstrating a limited level of expressive and receptive interpreting skills. These individuals have limited knowledge of at least one of the codes of ethics and have been awarded a level of state screening to help them identify their strengths and weaknesses and to assess whether they are ready to take a national evaluation. This program has been permanently discontinued because it was below the national standards (see p. 12).

Considerations in Using an Interpreter

There is a difference between an interpreter and a signer. A signer is a person who knows some sign language and may be able to adequately converse with a person who is deaf or hard of hearing in a social setting. However, a signer does not have sufficient training to function as an interpreter.

An individual assigned for the specific purpose of interpreting is a facilitator of communication, not a counselor, personal representative, nor an advocate for either person's rights. Such an assigned interpreter is present only to facilitate communication and would not be involved at all if not for communication difficulties.

Communication should be between the deaf or hard of hearing person and the hearing person. It is appropriate for the interpreter to use the first person (My name is...). The interpreter should not use third person (He said his name is...).

The hearing consumer should maintain eye contact with the deaf or hard of hearing person since that is who he/she is trying to communicate with.

The hearing person should direct all conversation toward the deaf or hard of hearing person. Personal or side conversation between the hearing person and the interpreter should be avoided. An interpreter should not be asked his/her opinions about the deaf or hard of hearing person, hearing person or the situation.

The hearing person should speak clearly and distinctly, and not exaggerate lip movements or facial expressions. This makes speechreading more difficult.

The interpreter will need to adjust to the pace of the hearing and deaf or hard of hearing consumers and sometimes it will be necessary for the consumer to adjust to the pace of the interpreter. If necessary, the interpreter will ask consumers to stop momentarily, repeat or slow down. This is to ensure that the both the deaf and hearing persons receive the message in full.

(reprinted with modifications and permission from Texas Commission for the Deaf's Interpreter Certification and Principles of Ethical Behavior Handbook.)

What are the Codes of Ethics for Interpreters?

Professional interpreters are expected to comply with one or both of the following codes of ethics. They were established to protect the rights of consumers and interpreters.

Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf (RID) Interpreter Code of Ethics:

1. Interpreters/Transliterators shall keep all assignment-related information strictly confidential.
2. Interpreters/Transliterators shall render the message faithfully, always conveying the content and spirit of the speaker, using language most readily understood by the person(s) whom they serve.
3. Interpreters/Transliterators shall not counsel, advise, or interject personal opinions.
4. Interpreters/Transliterators shall accept assignments using discretion with regard to skill, setting and the consumers involved.
5. Interpreters/Transliterators shall request compensation for services in a professional and judicious manner.
6. Interpreters/Transliterators shall function in a manner appropriate to the situation.
7. Interpreters/Transliterators shall strive to further knowledge and skills through participation in workshops, professional meetings, interaction with professional colleagues and reading of current literature in the field.
8. Interpreters/Transliterators, by virtue of membership in or certification by the RID, Inc., shall strive to maintain high professional standards in compliance with the code of ethics.

RID, 8630 Fenton St., Ste. 324, Silver Spring, MD 20910-3919 (301) 608-0050 V/TTY

National Association of the Deaf Interpreter Code of Ethics:

1. All information in an interpreting assignment is to be kept in strictest confidentiality.
2. Interpreting services shall always be competent, impartial and professional.
3. Messages shall be rendered faithfully, always conveying the content and spirit of the communicator.
4. In accepting assignments, discretion based on skill, setting, and the consumers involved must be used.
5. Counseling or interjecting of personal opinions is never permitted.
6. Information on the role and appropriate use of interpreting services shall be provided to the consumers when necessary.
7. Professional judgement should be exercised in assessing whether communication is understood.
8. Information on available resources as appropriate should be provided.
9. Compensation for services should be pursued in a professional manner.
10. Further knowledge, increased competency, and maintenance of standards should be pursued.

Description of the Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf Certification Levels:

CSC (Comprehensive Skills Certificate) - Holders of this full certificate have demonstrated the ability to interpret between American Sign Language and spoken English and to transliterate between spoken English and a signed code for English. The CI and CT is the replacement for the CSC. Holders of this certificate are recommended for a broad range of interpreting and transliterating assignments.

CI (Certificate of Interpretation) - Holders of this certificate are recognized as fully certified in Interpretation and have demonstrated the ability to interpret between American Sign Language and spoken English in both sign to voice and voice to sign. The interpreter's ability to transliterate is not considered in this certification. Holders of the CI are recommended for a broad range of interpreting assignments.

CT (Certificate of Transliteration) - Holders of this certificate are recognized as fully certified in Transliteration and have demonstrated the ability to transliterate between signed English and spoken English in both sign to voice and voice to sign. The transliterator's ability to interpret is not considered in this certification. Holders of the CT are recommended for a broad range of transliteration assignments.

CI and CT (Certificate of Interpretation and Certificate of Transliteration) - Holders of both full certificates have demonstrated competence in both interpretation and transliteration and have the same flexibility of job acceptance as holders of the CSC (see above). Holders of the CI and CT are recommended for a broad range of interpretation and transliteration assignments.

RSC (Reverse Skills Certificate) - Holders of this full certificate demonstrated the ability to interpret between American Sign Language and signed English or transliterate between English and a signed code for English. Holders of this certificate are deaf or hard of hearing and interpretation/transliteration is rendered in American Sign Language, spoken English, a signed code for English or written English. The CDI (in development)(see below) is designed to replace the RSC which is no longer offered. Holders of the RSC are recommended for a broad range of assignments where the use of an interpreter who is deaf or hard of hearing would be beneficial.

CDI-P (Certified Deaf Interpreter - Provisional) - Holders of this provisional certification are interpreters who are deaf or hard of hearing and who have demonstrated a minimum of one year experience working as an interpreter, completion of at least 8 hours of training on the RID Code of Ethics, and 8 hours of training in general interpretation as it relates to the interpreter who is deaf or hard of hearing. Provisional certification is valid until one year after the Certified Deaf Interpreter (CDI) examination (in development) is made available. Provisional certificate holders must take and pass the CDI examination in order to remain certified as a Deaf Interpreter. The CDI is designed to replace the RSC which is no longer offered. Holders of this provisional certificate are recommended for a broad range of assignments where an interpreter who is deaf or hard of hearing would be beneficial.

IC/TC (Interpretation/Transliteration Certificate) - Holders of this partial certificate demonstrated ability to transliterate between English and a signed code for English and the ability to interpret between American Sign Language and spoken English. This individual received scores on the CSC examination which prevented the awarding of full CSC certification. The IC/TC is no longer offered.

IC (Interpretation Certificate) - Holders of this partial certificate demonstrated ability to transliterate between American Sign Language and spoken English. This individual received scores on the CSC examination which prevented the awarding of full CSC certification or partial IC/TC certification. The IC is no longer offered.

TC (Transliteration Certificate) - Holders of this partial certificate demonstrated the ability to transliterate between spoken English and a signed code for English. This individual received scores on the CSC examination which prevented the awarding of full CSC certification or IC/TC certification. The TC is no longer offered.

OIC:C (Oral Interpreting Certificate: Comprehensive) - Holders of this generalist certificate demonstrated the ability to transliterate a spoken message from a person who hears to a person who is deaf or hard of hearing and the ability to understand and repeat the message and intent of the speech and mouth movements of the person who is deaf or hard of hearing. The OIC:C is no longer offered.

OIC:S/V (Oral Interpreting Certificate: Spoken to Visible) - Holders of this partial certificate demonstrated the ability to transliterate a spoken message from a person who hears to a person who is deaf or hard of hearing. This individual received scores on the OIC:C examination which prevented the awarding of full OIC:C certification. The OIC:S/V is no longer offered.

OIC:V/S (Oral Interpreting Certificate: Visible to Spoken) - Holders of this partial certificate demonstrated ability to understand the speech and silent mouth movements of a person who is deaf or hard of hearing and to repeat the message for a hearing person. This individual received scores on the OIC:C examination which prevented the awarding of full OIC:C certification. The OIC:V/S is no longer offered.

Description of the National Association of the Deaf's Interpreter Certification Levels:

Level V (Master) - The Level V Certification indicates that the interpreter is a master interpreter. The interpreter very rarely demonstrates difficulty in any interpreting situation.

Level IV (Advanced) - The Level IV Certification indicates that the interpreter is an advanced interpreter. The interpreter does very well in voice-to-sign. The interpreter demonstrates little difficulty in sign-to-voice. The interpreter may demonstrate oddities in sign style, choice of signs used; however, the interpreter demonstrates the skill necessary for just about any interpreting situation.

Level III - (Generalist) - The Level III Certification indicates that the interpreter is a generalist interpreter. The interpreter is one who shows a good sign vocabulary but may have some problems in sign-to-voice.

Due to recent changes in the evaluation process, attaining a Level I (Novice) or Level II (Intermediate) does not qualify an interpreter for certification under the National Association of the Deaf (NAD) Interpreter Assessment Program.

The Kentucky Commission on the Deaf and Hard of Hearing has permanently discontinued the Kentucky Interpreting Skills Screening (KISS) Program because it was below the national standards. National certification opportunities have been and continue to be offered in Kentucky since the termination of this program and individuals with KISS levels are given priority in taking these national evaluations. However, there are still some interpreters whose KISS levels have not expired. For that reason only, we have provided the description of the levels. These individuals are not considered to be certified interpreters. As of April 1998, all KISS levels will have expired.

Description of the KY Interpreting Skills Screening Levels:

Beginning Level - This is the very basic level. These individuals passed the performance test with a 50% overall accuracy rate. They are best suited for one on one, simple, non-technical situations.

Intermediate Level - It is a medium level. These individuals passed the performance test with a 65% overall accuracy rate. They should be able to interpret for job interviews, job orientation sessions and evaluations, on the job training, tutoring sessions, and simple non-technical medical examinations.

Advanced Level - This level is where the candidate is closer to being ready to take the national evaluation. These individuals passed the performance test with an 80% overall accuracy rate. They can interpret in a broader variety of situations than the Intermediate Level candidate.

Revised 1/1/98

KCDHH SUGGESTED FEE SCHEDULE

Since each interpreting assignment and interpreter's experience is different, fees may vary. Hiring agencies and interpreters are encouraged to agree on the terms prior to the interpreting assignment.

Levels	Hourly Rate
CSC, CT & CI, RSC, CDI-P, SC:L, SC:PA, OIC:C, NAD Level V	$25.00
CI or CT, IC/TC, NAD Level IV	$20.00
IC, TC,	$18.00
OIC:S/V, OIC:V/S, NAD Level III	$13.00
NAD Level II and I and other Non-Certified Interpreters (see #8)	$10.00
*Deaf-Blind Interpreting	Hourly rate plus $3.00
*Assignments on Weekends or between 10pm-7am	Hourly rate plus $3.00

1. Two Hour Minimum and Mileage – It is recommended that interpreters be paid a two hour minimum per assignment, even in the event of a no show, with the succeeding time to be paid in one-half hour increments rounded off to the nearest half hour plus mileage at prevailing agency rate, (i.e. .25/mile) beyond a 10 mile radius.
2. Travel Time – It is recommended that travel time be included when the assignment exceeds the two hour minimum fee. The interpreter should be expected to give an estimate of the travel time (paid at the same hourly rate) and any necessary expenses, such as lodging, etc., that are anticipated prior to confirmation of the assignment.
3. Cancellations – For assignments scheduled for up to one day: no charge is recommended if notice of cancellation is given within 24 hours of the scheduled starting time of the assignment. Fifty percent of the anticipated time is recommended for payment if notice is given less than 24 hours but by the day before the assignment was scheduled. If notice is given on the day of the assignment, one hundred percent of the anticipated time is recommended for payment.

For assignments scheduled for more than one day: no charge is recommended if notice of cancellation is given over 48 hours prior to the scheduled starting time of the assignment. Fifty percent of the anticipated time is recommended for payment if notice is given between 24-48 hours. One hundred percent of the anticipated time is recommended for payment if notice is given less than 24 hours of the starting time of the assignment.

4. No Shows – For interpreting assignments scheduled for two hours or less, refer to 1., for interpreting assignments scheduled for more than two hours, refer to 3.
5. Lengthy Assignments – For lengthy assignments such as all day conferences and long meetings, it is recommended that more than one interpreter be hired so that they can switch off every 20-30 minutes since interpreters cannot effectively interpret for lengthy periods of time and some physical problems such as carpal tunnel syndrome can develop from overuse. Each interpreter should be paid for the entire time.
6. Legal and Mental Health Settings – It is strongly advised that interpreters with CSC, CI/CT, or NAD Level V, be used in legal and mental health settings and due to the intense nature of the assignment, be paid accordingly. It is further recommended that interpreters with RSC or CDI, or CDI-P be used in these settings when the deaf consumer does not demonstrate fluency in American Sign Language or a commonly used signed system.
7. Educational Interpreters – It is recommended that educational interpreters receive two weeks severance pay if the student they interpret for drops out, unless they are reassigned to another student.
8. NAD Level II (Beginning) and I (Novice) – Individuals with these levels are not recognized as certified by NAD. It is strongly recommended that these individuals (and other non-certified interpreters) team with certified interpreters.
9. Interpreters with Specialized Certifications – Examples of specialized certifications are SC:L or SC:PA. These interpreters may require a higher level of pay.
10. Contact People – When in doubt concerning appropriateness of interpreters or fees, consult the Interpreter Administrator at the Kentucky Commission on the Deaf and Hard of Hearing, Dana Parker, at 502-573-2604 V/TTY or 1-800-372-2907 V/TTY, the president of the Kentucky Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf, Martha Hinton, at 502-595-4221V/TTY, or the president of the Kentucky Association of the Deaf, Cole Zulauf, at 606-272-0537 TTY.

*Some interpreters listed in this directory may also work with an interpreter referral service, thus charging outside the suggested fee schedule. Referral Centers provide "one stop shopping" for interpreter services. They generally charge a flat hourly fee. Below are some of these Interpreter Referral Centers' address and phone numbers.

USING THE LISTING

The listing that follows are those interpreters who have/had some level of national certification or state screening. The second column identifies the level of certification or screening that he/she currently holds. The third column is information that is pertinent, such as whether the interpreter had national certification in the past.

The fourth column identifies when and where the interpreter is willing to accept assignments. The last column is communication modes or settings the interpreter feels the most comfortable in using. It is important to recognize that these specialties are identified by the interpreter himself/herself and are not to be construed as an endorsement of their qualifications in those settings by the Kentucky Commission on the Deaf and Hard of Hearing.

Again, it is recommended that when you secure an interpreter, you agree on billing terms prior to the assignment. If you are unsure as to what level of skill is needed for a particular assignment, please contact the KCDHH for advice.
